

GLOBAL LEADER: Cutting-edge biomedical research is taking place across Missouri, in world-renowned hospitals, and innovation communities. Washington University in St. Louis ranked the 6th-best medical school for research.

HIGHLY SKILLED: Missouri’s bioscience industry employs almost 50,000 people in approximately 3,500 companies.

HEALTHY PIPELINE: Forty Missouri colleges and universities offer bachelor’s degrees or higher in biological or biomedical sciences.

HEALTHY INNOVATION: Missouri’s innovation communities, such as the Cortex Innovation Community in St. Louis or the Tiger Institute for Health Innovation in Columbia, are transforming healthcare treatments and practices.

INVESTING IN HEALTH: Missouri is committed to investing in health innovation with both private and public funds being invested in this growing sector.

50,000
employed in bioscience

6th-best medical school
for research

MISSOURI

INNOVATION AND EXPERIENCE: Missouri is home to successful health innovators such as Express Scripts, ImmunoPhotonics, CoFactor Genomics and more.

THRIVING INDUSTRY: Missouri is the headquarters of global healthcare leaders, including:

The Missouri Partnership is a public-private economic development partnership recognized as a top economic development organization in the U.S. We work in partnership with the Hawthorn Foundation, the Missouri Department of Economic Development, the State of Missouri, and economic development agencies across the state.

www.missouripartnership.com • 314-725-0949

MISSOURI
PARTNERSHIP